

Date: Monday 30th April - Friday 4th May 2018

WALT: write a balanced argument.

WE MUST ALWAYS REMEMBER TO INCLUDE :

Full stops and capital letters

Joined, neat handwriting

Skill 1	Skill 2	Skills 3
I can use a range of conjunctions & connectives.	I can use colons to join clauses.	I can use the present perfect tense.
Teacher Ass: WT WA GD	Teacher Ass: WT WA GD	Teacher Ass: WT WA GD

Should the three little pigs be jailed?

People have taken to the streets after the three little pigs have been arrested for the murder of Mr. Wolf. Even though a numerous amount of people think that the pigs are guilty, others think that the pigs are innocent. Should the pigs be sent to jail?

A number of people have testified that the pigs are innocent and are begging for the pigs to be let out of jail. They have claimed it is vital to reflect on these points prior to imprisoning them. Firstly, they made the rational point that Mr. Wolf was pretending to have asthma: he saw the neighbours staring at him. Additionally, people say that the pigs had the rights to protect their properties. Last but not least, the wolf was known to blow houses down in the past therefore the pigs were only protecting their houses.

On the other hand, many people think that the pigs are guilty therefore should be imprisoned. To start with, they have reported that the scratch marks proved that the wolf was trying to escape: he was held against his will. Moreover, the wolf had asthma, so he could not have blown the house down - even experts agree. A medical expert has also stated that Mr. Wolf (even if he was healthy) could not have blown a house down. Last of all, the pigs

GROWTH COMMENT

To improve your writing you must:

Self-assessment score ____

- To use capital letters and full stops accurately (1)
- To use joined handwriting (1)
- To use commas to mark clauses (1)
- To use a range of conjunctions & connectives (2)
- To use colons to join clauses (2)
- To use the present perfect tense (2)

OTHER (3) Check sentences make sense and add brackets

A number of people have testified that that the pigs are innocent and are begging for them to be let out of jail. They have claimed it is vital to reflect on these points prior to imprisoning them. Firstly, they made the rational point that Mr. Wolf was pretending to have asthma: he saw the neighbours staring at him. Additionally, people (who have protested in the streets) say that the pigs had the rights to protect their properties. Last but not least, the wolf was known to blow houses down in the past therefore the pigs were only trying to protect their houses.

Firstly Firstly Firstly Firstly Firstly Firstly